Terms and conditions:

- 1. Qualification Period: All new policies submitted, approved and paid for between January 1st, 2024, and December 31st, 2024 will be counted. The Advisor and/or Agency must have an active contract with Olé at the time of the convention.
- 2. Qualifying Policies: Qualifying Easy Term and Master Term policies must remain active from the closing date of qualification until the start day of the convention. Personal policies, lapsed policies or policies in grace period will not be included.
- 3. Individual Qualification and Accommodation: All individual qualifications will be assigned to a shared room. Upgrading to individual rooms is not allowed.
- 4. Advisor or Agency Qualification: Qualification can be as an advisor or as an agency. To qualify as an advisor, only direct sales under your code will be included. To qualify as an agency, qualified advisors must be below your immediate structure. An advisor or agency will only be able to qualify through one of the above-mentioned schemes.
- 5. Portfolio Persistency: The advisor must maintain 85% persistence in its portfolio for more than one year, until the closing date of the qualification period.
- 6. Transferability of Qualification: The qualification is not transferable or substitutable. If for any reason the qualifier cannot attend, he or she will not be able to designate another person or receive a payment in exchange for the qualification.
- 7. Responsibility for Expenses: Olé will cover the expenses of air tickets, transportation, food and activities specified in the official agenda of the convention. All expenses incurred outside of the program will be the responsibility of the participant.
- 8. Modifications and Cancellation: Olé reserves the right to modify the conditions, approve or reject the attendance of qualified advisors and/or their guests, and/or cancel the convention without prior notice and without any compensation.
- 9. There will be no extra spaces available for this convention.
